

About the Second Edition Contributing Chapter Co-Authors

W. Brinkley Dickerson, Partner, Troutman Sanders LLP. Mr. Dickerson revised Chapter 32, Online Securities Law, of this treatise. Mr. Dickerson is a leading securities and transactional attorney. His securities practice focuses on the routine periodic disclosure obligations of public companies. He also advises a number of other publicly traded companies on a more occasional basis and regularly advises e-commerce and other start-ups with respect to venture capital and other financing issues. Mr. Dickerson has advised clients in over 70 merger and acquisition transactions. He has been selected as a Super Lawyer by Law & Politics and Atlanta Magazine for Corporate Finance Law excellence (2004, 2005), recognized in The Best Lawyers in America in Corporate, Mergers and Acquisitions, and Securities Law in the 2005-2006 edition, and in Corporate Law in the 2006 edition. He may be contacted at (212) 801-9286 or brink.dickerson@troutmansanders.com.

Jonathan M. Eisenberg, Deputy Attorney General, Antitrust Law Section, Public Rights Division, Office of the Attorney General, California Department of Justice. Mr. Eisenberg revised parts of Chapter 34, Antitrust Restrictions on the Conduct of Electronic Commerce, of this treatise. Mr. Eisenberg is a member of the team of attorneys at the California Department of Justice responsible for civil and criminal enforcement of California's antitrust laws and civil enforcement of federal antitrust statutes, carried out through investigations of alleged violations, including reviews of mergers/acquisitions, and litigation. A former law clerk to U.S. District Judge Linda H. McLaughlin of the Central District of California, Mr. Eisenberg has been a litigator for more than a decade, handling antitrust, intellectual property, and other business disputes. He received a bachelor's degree from Stanford University in 1992 and a law degree from U.C. Berkeley School of Law in 1996. Mr. Eisenberg can be reached at (213) 897-6505 or jonathan.eisenberg@doj.ca.gov.

Lawrence D. Kaplan is of counsel in the corporate practice of Paul Hastings Janofsky & Walker LLP and a member of the firm's Global Banking and Financial Services Group, resident in Washington, D.C. Mr. Kaplan revised Chapter 31, Online Financial Transactions and Payment Mechanisms, in this treatise. He advises clients on all aspects of bank regulatory issues, with an emphasis on, corporate structuring, control, enforcement and the electronic provision of financial services.

Mr. Kaplan's practice involves the representation of traditional and nontraditional financial services holding companies and financial institutions before federal and state bank regulatory agencies on a variety of matters, including structural, operational, enforcement and authority issues. Mr. Kaplan has extensive experience with issues pertaining to payment networks and electronic funds transfers and payment cash advance operations. Mr. Kaplan served as a senior attorney in the Chief Counsel's Office at the Office of Thrift Supervision/Federal Home Loan Bank Board in both the Business Transactions and Enforcement divisions. Mr. Kaplan earned a Juris Doctorate from The National Law Center of the George Washington University in 1987. He earned an A.B. degree, with distinction, in 1984, from The University of Michigan. Mr. Kaplan can be reached at (202) 551-1829 or lawrencekaplan@paulhastings.com.

Alan N. Sutin, Shareholder, Greenberg Traurig LLP. Mr. Sutin revised Chapter 35, Online Gambling, in this treatise. He also revised the section on contests and promotions in Chapter 28. He is Chair of Greenberg Traurig's Global Intellectual Property & Technology Practice Group. An experienced business lawyer focused on commercial transactions with significant intellectual property and technology issues, Mr. Sutin advises clients in connection with transactions involving the development, acquisition, disposition and commercial exploitation of intellectual property. He also represents a wide variety of companies in connection with IT and business process outsourcing arrangements, strategic alliance agreements, commercial joint ventures, licensing transactions and advertising and marketing matters. He has particular experience in Internet and electronic commerce issues and has been involved in many of the major policy issues surrounding the commercial development of the Internet. Mr. Sutin has advised foreign governments and multinational corporations in connections with these issues, and is a frequent speaker at major industry conferences and events around the world. Mr. Sutin is listed in Best Lawyers in America, 2006 - 2009 and selected by Super Lawyers magazine, 2006 - 2008. He can be reached at (212) 801-9200 or sutina@gtlaw.com.

About the Second Edition Contributing Section Co-Authors

Helen A. Christakos, Associate, Greenberg Traurig, LLP. Ms. Christakos co-authored the best practice guidelines for the protection of children on social networks in Chapter 51 and several forms. Ms. Christakos is a member of the firm's Intellectual Property and Technology, Media and Telecommunications practice groups. She counsels established and emerging companies in a wide range of industries, including software development and distribution, hardware, multimedia, wireless, Internet service, entertainment, environment and medical devices on intellectual property, technology licensing and related transactions as well as e-commerce and on-line privacy issues. Ms. Christakos graduated from Vassar College, Cambridge University and from the University of California at Berkeley School of Law (Boalt Hall) . She may be reached at (650) 289-7958 or christakosh@gtlaw.com.

Alan Chapell, President, Chapell & Associates. Mr. Chapell co-authored the affiliate marketing checklist in Chapter 28. Mr. Chapell began his career at a boutique direct marketing agency in Connecticut. In 1996, he joined Jupiter Research, spending nearly five years with the Internet research firm. After his tenure at Jupiter, Mr. Chapell helped develop DoubleClick's research product suite. He later worked with email marketing firms Yesmail and Cheetahmail, where he helped clients with issues of privacy and deliverability. Mr. Chapell founded Chapell & Associates in October of 2003 and works with some of the largest advertisers and agencies in the world on legal and strategic issues. Chapell also works with equity firms helping them vet potential investments in the interactive space, and and has made several angel investments on his own. He serves as co-chair of the NYC chapter of the International Association of Privacy Professionals (IAPP), and chairman of the Mobile Marketing Association's "Privacy and Preferences" Committee. Mr. Chapell graduated from the University of Connecticut and Fordham University School of Law, and is a member of the New York bar as well as a Certified Information Privacy Professional. He may be reached at (917) 318-8440 or achapell@chapellassociates.com.

Charmaine D. Williams, Shareholder, Greenberg Traurig LLP. Ms. Williams revised the section covering licensing music for use on-line, in Chapter 17. She focuses her transactional practice on the licensing of music, film and other entertainment-related content and the protection, maintenance, exploitation and enforcement of trademark, copyright, and publicity rights. She has wide-ranging experience drafting and negotiating digital content agreements (with record labels and other content providers/licensors) on behalf of clients with digital music/media services and offerings, managing domestic and international trademark portfolios, drafting and negotiating trademark purchase/sale and license agreements, and counseling and strategizing with clients on trademark, copyright, publicity rights and entertainment-related new media issues. Ms. Williams graduated from Princeton University and Georgetown University Law Center. She may be reached at (678) 553-2320 or williamsch@gtlaw.com.

About the First Edition Contributing Chapter Co-Authors

John P. Feldman, Partner, Reed Smith. Mr. Feldman prepared the 2004-2005 update to the contests and promotions section of the chapter on Internet advertising. Mr. Feldman practices in the intellectual property, advertising, marketing, promotion, and media law areas in the firm's Washington office. He also works in trademark, copyright, and right of publicity counseling and litigation. He has worked with advertising and promotion agencies and advertisers from a vast array of industries, from pharmaceuticals to quick-serve restaurants to semi-conductors to hardware products. Another area of Mr. Feldman's practice includes his extensive work with children's advertising issues, advising clients on promotional practices targeted to children, and he has significant experience before the Children's Advertising Review Unit. He is recommended for his excellent reputation among clients, especially for his regulatory work involving federal bodies in Washington, D.C. in The Legal 500 directory. Mr. Feldman graduated from Princeton University and Cornell Law School. He may be reached at (202) 414-9230 or jfeldman@reedsmith.com.

Angelee J. Harris, Partner, Manatt, Phelps & Phillips, LLP. Ms. Harris prepared the 2004-2005 update to the chapter on securities regulations. Ms. Harris represents public and closely held companies in business and corporate and securities matters, including capital market transactions, mergers and acquisitions, corporate governance and regulatory issues. Ms. Harris counsels companies and investment banks in underwriting, purchasing and placing equity, debt and convertible securities. Ms. Harris assists venture capital firms and clients in the financial services industry in raising, organizing and structuring equity and debt venture funds and funds that invest in other venture funds. She graduated from Brigham Young University and the University of Utah College of Law. Ms. Harris may be reached at (714) 338-2720 or aharris@manatt.com.